Letter from an Irish American Citizen

PORTLAND, O., May 16, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Have the kindness to insert the following letter in your next issue, which is from a sincere friend resident in an Eastern State. You will observe by some passages in it very anxious inquiries relative to the general interest of the country which every true citizen should espouse. These inquiries, I assure you have been prosecuted by me with ardor for a considerable period, and I am happy to say with only one result, namely: that every person entitled to vote and caring for the interests of the United States should, without any hesitation, stand by the Union Republican party. As an Irishman, appreciating the many blessings and advantages which his countrymen enjoy in this glorious republic, the courtesy and generosity of sentiment manifested towards us by Americans generally, who are ready to extend the hand of fellowship and welcome us to the free shores of this free country from the bondage of English slavery and oppression, I would wish to impress upon their minds their duty to their adopted country. The stand which we took in the late war deserves well of the country, and let not the prestige which we earned therein be even partially lost or our escutcheon tarnished by any false step taken in the coming political contest. We have another opportunity of raising ourselves and our poor afflicted country still higher in the estimation of every sober and well thinking American and we can readily do so by casting off the shackles of the so called Democracy.

Is it to be wondered at that a prejudice should arise in the minds of Americans interested in the welfare of the country when they behold Irish men, without consideration, running headlong and opposing those men and impeding those measures which, on the contrary, they should firmly support and maintain. Every Irishman should quickly ask himself the question—what side will I take? Am I sure, if I vote the Democratic ticket, that I am right and standing by my country's advancement? On the other hand, if I vote the Union ticket, I am certain I am voting with the only party who, in the face of all the machination of England and enemies generally, have preserved the country from dismemberment, and abolished slavery, a barbarous and unchristian institution—at present existing in no civilized country, not even Russia. Cast party trammel aside and boldly vote the Union ticket, and you will find hereafter, when political excitement will have abated, that you have performed an act in accordance with the dictates of an upright and patriotic sentiment. Here is the letter above mentioned.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, April —, 1868.

"My Dear W—— With a kindly feeling I have the honor and the pleasure of acknowledging the glad reception of your favor of the 10th January last, which came to my possession a few days since, and was perused by me with care and interest. Ere I broke the seal I knew it was from you, but the post mark 'Portland, Oregon,' caused me to pause for a moment as to the correctness of my conclusion that it was from you, but knowing the itinerant disposition of the man on the frontiers, I said to myself, it is from W., anyhow, and he is in Portland, and glad, indeed, am I to be favored with a communication from your pen. I feel almost like congratulating you on your escape from Montana to a more civilized country. The hardships, difficulties and privations necessarily attendant upon a miner's life, are mortifying in the extreme, and the miner at the time of enduring these does not realize their true magnitude. It is only retrospectively that the true conclusion can be arrived at or the situation reviewed.

You make mention as to yourself as being in doubt as to which of the two political parties to identify yourself with. By all means, I say with the Republican or Union party, and never with the so called Democracy. The latter is the principal drawback and scourge of this country. It has cursed it for years. It still curses it and will continue to curse it for years to come, and if ever the Republic is destroyed (at least in your time or mine), Democracy will have had much to do with it. Slavery and oppression were its corner stones. They are still determined to build their Babel on their old foundation (the negro), or ruin whatever they can in the attempt. A resolution has now passed the House of Representatives to impeach the President. This is unwise, and in my opinion is uncalled for. Johnson is no doubt a barrier in the war of reconstruction, but he is too contemptible to demand such a grave and solemn proceeding, for the reason that his hands are tied and all his tail feathers pulled out. My advice to you is to stand firm in the Union ranks. Allow me to quote you an extract from a New York paper, truly in the Irish interests, which affects us all more or less: "But can America pay her debts in gold if she allows, by insane legislation, that gold to be swept clean out of the country, in payment for the pauper made manufactures of England? How can the taxation imposed upon us by an accursed war be paid by the people of this country if English free trade is allowed to reduce the wages of our workingmen by at least one half? How can that taxation be met so effectually as by taking it off the shoulders of our own suffering citizens and placing it in the shape of a protective tariff on those of the foreign English competitors, who are not only covetous of our cash but conspirators against our liberties and rancorous enemies of our national power and prosperity; and as to the rights of citizens, how much will they be worth either to naturalized or native, if our people are to be reduced by English competition to such a state of hopeless, hungry, ragged servitude as is the sad lot of the toiling millions of white slaves who crowd the manufacturing districts of Yorkshire and Lancashire and this is just what your citizen rights will be worth if you have not a protective or prohibitive tariff to guard your industry. But without such a protective tariff as Mr. Wade indicates, even the manufactures of the North must wither. Already has the country listened to the sad and sorrowful tidings of their decay. We are told that furnaces are cold, that machinery rusts in idleness and that wages are reduced some twenty or thirty per cent. This is a grave question, and one which demands from our legislatures an immediate, positive and resolute answer."

"The Democratic party at Tammany Hall, which is their great wigwam, have hoisted 'English Free Trade' on their colors. With one or two honorable exceptions—and there are not more—their journals in every State in the Union advocate the same disastrous measures, and we will be obliged to any one who can find a single specimen of a regular Democratic politician who is not in head and ears for 'free trade' with England and all the world. We state facts and defy contradiction. Now do we address any honest mechanic or miner, or worker in cloth or iron, whose wages are now little more than half what they once were, or do we address any who have been thrown out of employment altogether. Then we say English competition did it for you. Will you vote for any man or party who supports English competition? If you do, take what you get, hunger and rags for yourself and children. You deserve your doom.

"Ninety nine hundredths of the Irishmen of America are working men, who live honestly by the toil of their own hands. They contribute hundreds of thousands of dollars every year in hitherto futile efforts to humble England, their natural enemy. Did they ever reflect that there is one way in which they can strike a blow which will at once protect their own wages, and, at the same time, go as straight to the heart of their remorseless oppressor, England, as if it were a rifle bullet? If they did not, it is time for them to begin. Vote against every man and party which will support free trade with England. Swear by your ruined country and your scattered race, by your lost home and murdered kindred, that you will never either by word or act, either by voice or vote, support any man who will permit a single inch of English manufacture to be landed on the shores of America. In one word, go in for a protective tariff. Find out who the men are who support it and stand by them. Do that and in one year you will do more to break up the British Empire, than all your Fenian armies could do in in fifty years, even if they were to be victorious in as many battles in the New Dominion of Canada."

I excuse this long letter. Please let me hear from you as often as convenient, and I will not forget to reciprocate.

In sincerity and truth, I am yours always,

C. A. B.

Opinion of Judge Deady

District Court U. S.—District of Oregon. In re James Burk, a Bankrupt. DEADY, J.

The bankrupt having applied for his discharge, certain persons styling themselves "creditors of James Burk, bankrupt," oppose such discharge and specify as the grounds of their opposition, the following:

1. Said Burk has not resided in or carried on business in said District of Oregon for six months immediately preceding the filing of his petition.

2. Said Burk has removed a part of his property from the district with intent to defraud his creditors, to wit: said Burk on or about the middle of May, 1865, fraudulently disposed of all his property in said district and fraudulently left said district with the proceeds of said property with intent to defraud his creditors.

The bankrupt by his solicitor "demurs to the specification of grounds of opposition" as "insufficient in law" to prevent the discharge prayed for, being granted.

No specific direction is given in the Act, or in the general Orders and Forms, as to the mode in which the bankrupt may question the sufficiency of the grounds of opposition to this discharge. Section 31, which authorises the creditor opposing the discharge, to specify the grounds of his opposition in writing, also provides, that "the court may in its discretion order any question of fact so presented, to be tried at a stated session of the district court."

This provision seems to assume or imply that the court before directing a trial concerning such "a question of fact," will exercise its discretion—judgment—and thereby determine whether the allegation of the creditor, if true, is sufficient in law to prevent the bankrupt from obtaining his discharge.

Whether the objection to the specifications should be taken by demurrer or exceptions analogous to those allowed in equity, may be a question. But in one or the other of these modes it seems necessary and proper that the bankrupt should be allowed to question the sufficiency in law of the grounds of opposition to his discharge.

The first specification was abandoned on the argument as being too broad. The amended petition only avers that the bankrupt "has resided and carried on business in this district for the longest period of time during the six months next preceding the filing of his petition." The allegation is sufficient, and the objection that the bankrupt had not resided in or carried on business in the district for the full period of such six months may be true and yet the bankrupt may be entitled to his discharge. Moreover, neither the actual or alleged residence or place of business of the bankrupt can be directly made the ground of opposition to his discharge.

If he has wilfully sworn falsely in relation to either,—they being material facts—this fact,—the false oath—may be objected to his discharge. (Sec. § 29, B. Act.)

The second specification is founded on the clause in Section 29, which reads:

"Or has removed, or caused to be removed, any part of his property from the district with intent to defraud his creditors."

This clause is preceded and followed by several others in the same section, united by the disjunctive conjunction, or, and separated by semicolons, each of which prescribes a distinct and independent ground of objection, to granting a discharge. The second clause preceding this, concerns the destruction, etc., of books, etc., and is qualified by the words, "since the passage of this act." The clause in question contains no words limiting its operation to any point of time, before or since the passage of the act. Counsel for the bankrupt insists that the qualifying words in the preceding clause apply to the subsequent one, so that the removal of property by the bankrupt, with intent etc., must have been committed since the passage of the bankrupt act, or else it is not sufficient ground of opposition to his discharge.

The only reason given in support of this construction is that the one clause follows the other in point of position, in the section.

But these clauses, being separated by the disjunctive conjunction, have no dependence upon one another. Each, only relates to the preceding enactment or command, which declares:

"No discharge shall be granted, * * * if the bankrupt" etc.

Each clause is a statement of what constitutes a bar to the discharge, with only such qualifications of time and place as are therein expressly provided or fairly to be implied from the nature of the subject and the language and object of the statute. Again, if the operation of any one clause following that concerning the destruction, etc., of books, etc., is, on account of the restrictive words in the latter, limited to the time since the passage of the act, why are not all of such clauses so limited? If the restrictive words—"since the passage of the act"—apply to any one following clause, and because it is a following clause, they must for the same reason apply to all.

But the fact, that the clause concerning the failure to keep proper books of account, which occurs still further on in the section, is expressly restrained to such failures occuring since the passage of the act, goes to show, that in the opinion of the law maker, each clause, as to time, was independent of the other, and therefore the propriety and necessity of inserting express words of limitation or restriction in any clause, which was not intended to apply to acts or omissions, done or suffered prior to the passage of the act.

It being evident that the clause in question is not restrained by the language in the preceding clause I next consider, whether the nature of the subject or the language and object of the statute furnish any reason for construing the clause, so as to limit its operation to removals of property occurring since the passage of the act.

The object of the bankrupt act is two-fold.

First, to secure a just and equal distribution of the bankrupt's effects among his creditors; and,

Second, to discharge the bankrupt from his debts, provided, that he has not conducted himself dishonestly in the premises:

To remove one's property from the district or county where one has done business and obtained credit, with the intent to defraud the persons giving such credit, is intrinsically wrong—contrary to good morals—independent of the bankrupt act. Then, whether the property of Burk was removed from the district before or after the passage of the act, it was equally a dishonest act, if done with intent to defraud his creditors, and ought to prevent his obtaining his discharge from his debts. If this be true, he may be a bankrupt but not an honest one.

But a person who was not a creditor at the time of such removal, or whose debt was then barred by the statutes of limitations, could not have been defrauded by it, and therefore cannot be heard to make the objection. Practically, as to him, it is not true.

So much for the principal question. The objections on the part of the creditors, or the persons styling themselves "creditors of James Burk, bankrupt," does not directly aver that either of them is a creditor entitled to make the objection—that is a creditor who has proved his debt. "Form No. 53," of the General Orders and Forms, contains the averment, or more correctly speaking, recital, that the creditor has proved his debt, with a blank to be filled up with the amount. For aught that I know the persons making these objections are creditors of James Burk in a general sense, but they cannot be regarded as his creditors in a Court of Bankruptcy, until it appears that they have proved their debts.

The objections allege that the fraudulent removal of property by the bankrupt occurred in May, 1865 but it does not appear whether any of these alleged creditors were then creditors of Burk or not. If they were not, the removal could not have been made with intent to defraud them, and therefore the objection is insufficient.

I am also of the opinion that the specification concerning the removal of the property is altogether too vague and general to be triable. In re, Robt. C. Rathbone (Bank Reporter, March 1, 1868) BLATCHFORD, J., in considering this subject, says:

"The specifications of the ground of opposition to a discharge, must, under section 31 of the Act, and general Order No. 24, be as specific as the specifications of the ground for avoiding a discharge after it is granted, required by section 34 of the Act. The allegations must be allegations of fact and must be distinct, precise and specific, and must not be allegations merely in the language of section 29 of the Act, or allegations so general, as really not to advise the bankrupt what facts he must be prepared to meet and resist."

The demurrer is sustained. The creditors may have further time to file amended objections in accordance with this opinion, if desired. What constitutes a removal of property with intent to defraud creditors, will be reserved for the final hearing.

The Eleventh Article

The dispatches state that the vote was taken by the Court of Impeachment on Saturday, on the eleventh article preferred by the House of Representatives against the President. All the Senators were present, and the vote in favor of conviction was one less than the two-thirds required by the Constitution.

The eleventh article was not originally presented by the House when the articles of impeachment were framed It was subsequently drawn up by Butler, and adopted by the House, several members who had voted for the original articles voting against it It charged that the President, having denied in a public speech at Washington on the 18th of August, 1866, that the 39th Congress was authorized to exercise legislative power, and denying that the legislation of said Congress was valid or obligatory upon him, or that said Congress had power to propose certain amendments to the Constitution, did attempt to prevent the execution of the act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices, by attempting to devise means by which to prevent Mr. Stanton from resuming the functions of Secretary of War, notwithstanding the refusal of the Senate to concur in his suspension, and that he also contrived means to prevent the execution of an act of March 2 1867, which provides that all military orders shall be issued through the General of the Army, and also another act of the same 2d March, known as the reconstruction act

We do not now anticipate conviction on any of the articles The action of certain Senators in officially declaring a short time ago that the President had violated the law in removing Stanton, and now deciding that he violated no law in making the removal, is quite incomprehensible. We shall not repeat what we have said on this subject on former occasions, except to remark that these Senators are chargeable with the responsibility of this whole proceeding, inasmuch as they first took a course which caused the trial, and have now brought themselves and their high office into contempt by abandoning a position deliberately taken

The Issues of 1868.

The approaching State election is a skirmish which precedes the great political battle of 1868 The true policy for the Union party in this contest is to stand firmly on the ground already gained, to carefully secure and adjust all that has been accomplished, and, instead of reaching for ward to new enterprises, to maintain the positions already taken. The reason why it is necessary to do this arises from the fact that the "Democracy" occupy a purely negative position They have no affirmative policy or principles, and necessarily can have none until the final adjustment of the war have been made They oppose everything; they favor nothing—unless it be a huge lie. They oppose reconstruction, the payment of taxes, the payment of the national debt, the equalization of representation, and in fact every measure which is brought forward and advocated by the Union party. The consequence is that they have no affirmative policy and can have none They are forced to seize up on every act of the majority and by effort of ingenuity to strive to torture it into a demonstration of reckless revolutionary intent. For three long, weary years the North has been diligently striving to work out the adjustments of the war For three years it has been constantly baffled The South, originally humble and submissive, has recovered much of its old haughty spirit The fact is the rebellion has been "scotched, not killed." Hence the old issues have again come to the surface; they must be fought over and decided again.

In the present state of the "Democratic" speakers and journals are making appeals to the mean est and most despicable feelings by which the human mind can be led ...,—to the jealousy of race, to the prejudices of caste and color, to the low passions of ignoble natures, to the miserable ... of ignorance, to the base instincts of selfishness and malignity, to the hatred of a baffled faction, to the greed of politicians out of power to the fancied interests of men who are controlled in their ... of pecuniary interests, and who had rather see the Union destroyed or slavery restored than bear the burden of an increased taxation. It is the glory of the Union party that the arguments and appeals by which it seeks to win votes are of an altogether different character. The Republican writer or speaker addresses himself to the reason and the judgment, to the noblest sentiments and most generous emotions by which rational beings can be swayed. We repeat it, the Democratic party has offended and outraged the best moral sentiment of the country, and has been denied by it.

The Democratic journals object to allowing the Southern blacks to vote because of their ignorance But if learning were made the test of suffrage, who does not know that a very large section of the Democratic party would be disfranchised? If the Southern blacks are so ignorant and brutalized as the Copperhead organs declare them to be, they will, by a law as immutable as gravitation, ultimately find their way to the Democratic party Beriah the other day published a long article, showing that in the nature of things, the negroes would soon unite, politically, with the Democracy" When that event comes to pass the Democratic party will become the champion of the negro, and look after some other class as suitable victims to be oppressed and outraged by their support—pe?"

When anything occurs which the "Democracy don't like they begin to swear lustily that they "never will submit," that it's no use talking they'll "fight." Now Union men are not particularly pleased with the result of impeachment but as they are not 'Democrats,' they do not propose to make fools of themselves by declaring that they "won't submit," and after this ebullition of mock valor, quietly subside That would be a little too Democratic

Paris Exposition Awards.

DESCRIPTION OF THE MEDALS AND DIPLOMAS—RULES OF AWARDS—PERCENTAGE OF AWARDS

[From the New York World, April 20]

The medals and diplomas awarded to American exhibitors at the Paris Exposition arrived in Washington on the 12th inst, and are now on exhibition in the hall formerly occupied by the House of Representatives The cases containing the medals were placed in position last Tuesday They were forwarded from Paris and are beautiful specimens of workmanship, being composed of French glass, supported by a frame work of burnished steel, and mounted on tables covered with rich velvet, dropping to the floor in graceful festoons From the corners of each table is suspended a heavy fringed tassel The cases contain 192 objects of interest, comprising 4 Crosses of the Legion of Honor, 3 Grand Prizes 15 Gold Medals, 1 Artist's Medal, 74 Silver Medals 95 Bronze Medals, and 1 Statuette, which is placed over the cases

In addition to the medals, there are now some two hundred diplomas These are suspended three rows deep, on upright screens of about seven feet square, which are placed in such a manner as to form a series of alcoves extending the entire hall Along the top of these alcoves flags are tastefully arranged, and over the centre alcove the coat of arms of the United States is placed There is also a series of photographic views, which will occupy a horizontal line of twenty four feet, forming, as it were, a panoramic view of the part occupied by the United States in the Exhibition Mention must not be omitted of the black pencil drawing by Mr Mulat, on a sheet of paper about twenty feet in length presenting continuously the whole of the United States section, which plainly indicates the various objects displayed, and shows that Mr M is a draughtsman of ability There is also a lithograph giving a panoramic view of the whole palace building and park, taken as from a height, looking down upon it, made by the Imperial Commissioner On this lithograph, the part occupied by the United States is marked distinctly in colors These are arranged in such a manner that any one may form a very correct notion of the ensemble

In a few days there will arrive 100 additional diplomas, which will also be placed on exhibition This will complete the list of awards In order to convey some idea of the magnitude of this exhibition it may be stated that the diplomas alone, if extended in a straight line, would reach over 790 feet, more than an eighth of a mile

The rule of awards adopted by the Imperial Commission is as follows "When two or more awards of the same denomination are made to one exhibitor for different products, the number of diplomas issued will correspond with the number of awards, but only one medal will be issued which covers all, and in like manner as to two or more medals of different metals, the higher absorbs the lesser, and the superior medal covers all" Thus three silver medals were decreed to the State of Illinois, one for minerals, one for farm houses and one for school houses, and there are three diplomas to correspond, but only one silver medal actually issued Mr McCormick and Mr Wood were decreed medals for their products, and medals for the field work (making four) and three or four diplomas, but only two medals. The above list, therefore, comprises all the crosses, grand prizes, gold, silver and bronze medals, with the following exceptions.

First One grand prize to the United States Sanitary Commission. This has been delivered to the Rev Dr Bellows. It may be returned for exhibition. The diploma, however, is in the collection.

Second. One grand prize and diploma awarded to Mr. Hughes on printing telegraph, which was delivered to that gentleman in Paris

These are the only actual deficiencies. Any other discrepancies between the medals and the diplomas for medals result from the suppression of medals, though the diplomas are issued under the rule above quoted. This explanation will answer the inquiries, if any should be made, by exhibitors when they receive their diplomas, in cases (not many) where they do not correspond in number with the medals sent them In fire arms (small), there were six exhibitors, all of whose products were first-class, but gold medals could not be obtained for all, a silver medal was therefore decreed to each exhibitor and bears his name

One gold medal was also decreed to the Industrie Armoriere des Etats Unis d'Amerique which consequently does not belong to any individual It is not known what disposition will be made of this medal It is presumed, however, that it will be placed, together with the diplomas in the Patent Office, for the general benefit of that industry A silver medal was decreed to the United States Government for specimens of sutlers houses This award was the spontaneous act of the Imperial Commission A bronze medal was also struck for the Agricultural Bureau These also will probably be placed in the Patent Office, and will then present a specimen of each kind of medal awarded

The entire exhibition is one worthy the admiration of the people of the United States and one upon which the American people can look with pride and satisfaction This success is the more remarkable in view of the fact that the appropriation made by Congress was very moderate and made too late to be fully available The following exhibits the percentage of awards to exhibitors from four prominent countries

France	[illegible]
United States	[illegible]
Germany	47 5?
Great Britain	[illegible]

From the above showing it will be seen that the United States rank very little, indeed, below France, and have received, on the average more than one award for every two articles exhibited while England and her colonies combined only received one award for every four articles exhibited The total average of percentage of awards to exhibitors of all nations was 31 53 The total average percentage results from a comparison of the whole number of awards with the whole number of exhibitors this total average results equally from the sum of the averages of the grades

"There can be no doubt that much of the gasses and molten matter now escaping from Mauna Loa found its way there from this Continent Had the underground ducts or pipes been obstructed so as to prevent the gasses and molten matter from reaching its natural escape valve there is but little doubt that there would have been throughout California earthquakes so fierce in character, so destructive in results, as to fill the world with awe"

Notice in Bankruptcy.

DISTRICT OF OREGON SS. THIS IS TO GIVE notice that on the 13th day of May 1868 a warrant in Bankruptcy was issued out of the District Court ... [illegible] ... the payment of any debts and the delivery of any property belonging to said bankrupt ... are forbidden by law ... SIXTH INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION

OF THE

Mechanics' Institute,

SAN FRANCISCO

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MECHANics Institute hereby give notice that the Sixth Industrial Exhibition of that Association will be held some time in August next in a building to be erected for the purpose in Union Square in this city Every preparation will be made for the accommodation of exhibitors and visitors with a view to make the Exhibition profitable instructive and pleasant to all parties

During the three years which have intervened since the holding of the last Exhibition in this city the manufacturing mechanical, scientific and useful and ornamental arts have made unprecedented progress on this coast and it is believed that the proposed Exhibition will excel any other in value that has ever been held on the shores of the Pacific

The plan of building to be erected, which has been adopted by the Board of Directors It is believed will prove to be the best adapted, both for display and convenience of the public of any building ever erected in the State The building will be perfectly water tight being covered with a shingle roof so that no damage from the elements can be anticipated

All parties who are interested in any of the branches of Manufactures Mechanics or the Arts and Sciences are invited to exhibit ... at the proposed Exhibition and to share in the publicity and consequent profit which always attends such enterprises Suitable premiums will be offered, and the specific date of opening the Exhibition will be published at a future time

By order of the Board of Directors

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—We clip the subjoined items from the Enterprise of Saturday, the 16th: The wool trade appears to be getting rather lively in town. Prices for the week rule at from 18 to 18 cents per lb. … The … Society meet now at Washington Hall, on Monday evening of each week. The following officers were chosen at the last meeting: President, H. Jelsi…; Vice President, Walter Moss; Secretary, Henry Hedges. —On Sunday last a little daughter of Capt. Hedges accidentally fell and fractured one arm. Under the treatment of Drs. Barclay and Saffarans she is doing well and it is hoped will soon recover without any permanent injury. —Teams heavily loaded with farm produce have passed through this town in trains this week for Portland. —A little son of Capt. Geo. A. Pease, on Tuesday evening last ignited a can of coal oil in this city and in his efforts to blow it out, burned his face considerably—though not in a manner as to result in a disfiguration. —Hon. J. H. Mitchell and Hon. Lansing Stout will address the people of Aurora, on Tuesday evening next, on the subject of Railroads. —The vein of copper found recently in this county by Mr. F. M. Shaver, is turning out to be a magnificent affair. Large specimens of almost pure metal have been found. The locality is close by the Willamette river and shipping is easily obtained. It will prove to be better than a gold mint for our people. —Just above this discovery is a valuable bed of iron, equal to Oswego, and quite as extensive. We are glad to learn that at last Californians have resorted to Oregon for iron. The stock last year imported into San Francisco for the … of … the iron market is now exhausted and Oswego pig is sought at a fair valuation. The works at Oswego will not remain idle a very great while longer. —The following officers were elected for the ensuing term of Willamette Lodge, No. 15, I. O. of G. T.: T. S. Spooner, W. C. T.; Miss Kate Hunsaker, W. R. H. S.; Mrs. Capt. Pease, W. L. H. S.; Miss Emma Goud, W. V. T.; Miss Sarah Hunsaker, W. R. H. S.; Charles Howard, W. A. S.; Louis Barren, W. F. S.; Mrs. Francis, Treasurer; Harry Miner, W. M.; Miss Mary Francis, W. A. M.; Miss Mary Warren, W. I. G.; John Jock, W. O. G.; W. I. Cooper, Chaplain.

DALLES ITEMS.—From the Mountaineer of the 16th, we clip the following news items: The teamsters freighting on the Canyon City road have entered into an agreement with one another to take freight until the first of August for four cents, after which time they will charge five cents for the balance of the season. —Mr. Eldridge, of this city, brought down several sacks of coal from the vein discovered some time ago on the Canyon City road a few miles above Officer's ranch, and had it tried by several of the blacksmiths here in town, who pronounce it equal to the very best coal for their use. It is of a quality of the mineral coal known as lignite, retaining the texture of the wood from which it was formed. … by going deeper the pure anthracite may be found. —A large party of officers and ladies belonging to Fort Vancouver, came up on Tuesday's boat as an escort in honor of the departure of Capt. Kelly and Lieut. Ropes with their families, for Camp McGarry, Nevada. Capt. Kelly took the stage for Camp Harney on Friday morning, leaving his family in charge of Lieut. Ropes and Mr. Chas. F. West, who left the same day in a large travelling ambulance. —Mr. Philip Peck has kindly shown us a letter received from Captain Coffin, in which he says: The quartz mill is in good condition and we have increased our facilities for saving gold down to a dot and the mill is pounding away night and day, much to the delight of Col. Hackel, who is in fine spirits at the flattering prospect of this summer's work. We are now taking quartz from the main tunnel at the depth of about three hundred feet, which saves much labor and expense and the quartz looks splendid, with a more defined lode in full view. The season has been very backward, but the farmers are now hard at work putting in crops and anticipating a good demand for grain next fall.

LOSS OF THE SCHOONER GROWLER.—It turns out upon later developments that the schooner Growler was not wrecked but that she was captured, and her crew murdered by the Hydah Indians. The Colonist of the 4th says: "By the Oriflamme, which arrived on Saturday … from Tongas and Stekin (without going to Sitka) … some additional particulars about the wreck of the vessel. A man called Frenchy informed an Italian who came down that he (Frenchy) assisted to bury the bodies. Sprague, mate and part owner of the Growler had his throat cut in a frightful manner, literally from ear to ear. The half breed woman, Estella, had one foot … badly cut. Besides such things previously found in the … of the Hydah Indians, which other materials has been discovered since which they cannot fairly account for. The crime was committed on American soil, but we are glad to hear one of our own vessels is going up as well as the Wyanda, so that the public may … that this high-handed outrage will be thoroughly investigated. Mr. Sprague, mentioned above, was highly connected in America, being cousin to the … and intellectual Governor of Rhode Island. It … that the Sitka and Tongas Indians are at war. The Stekin chief has killed the Tongas chief, Abbott. The Tongas say positively the Hydahs killed the crew of the Growler and robbed the vessel."

FROM THE WARM-SPRINGS RESERVATION.—The Mountaineer of Saturday, says: Captain John Smith, accompanied by his Clerk, Mr. Gillingham, was in town during the fore part of the week. He reports everything as being in a flourishing condition at the Warm Springs Reservation. The grain crops are going to be very large. A small band of Snake Indians have been prowling about the country south of the Reserve watching an opportunity to run off stock, but so far have not succeeded. The Captain received a letter from Mr. R. S. Burkhart dated at Salem, April 26th. He had arrived there safe from the Ochoco Valley via the road over the Cascade Mountains and intended to return the same route with his cattle, horses and sheep. Mr. Burkhart says there is considerable excitement in the Willamette Valley in relation to the Ochoco Valley and that a large number talk of … him in the new settlement. This Ochoco Valley is almost decidedly one of the finest grain and stock raising countries on the Pacific coast. We traveled all over that section of country in the years '64 and '65 hunting Indians, and noticed at the time its rich soil and the excellence of its grasses and water. We anticipate that if by the summer a large emigration will flock to this new country, this will add wealth and population to our county. We are pleased to have them come.

TURN VEREIN PICNIC.—The annual May Fest of the Turn Verein Society of Portland, will take place next Sunday, the 24th, at Pleasant Grove, a short distance below Milwaukie. Upon the arrival at the grounds of the … boat, the exercises will open with an oration by Mr. F. E. Ostheim, and an address by Mr. D. Freil… The preparations for games and a variety of … will be made, this year, on a somewhat more … scale than usual and the Fest is expected to excel all that have preceded it—and that is saying a great deal. Boats will go up at various times during the day, so that all who wish to do so, may attend.

… COURT, IN VACATION.—The following judgments … have been entered by the Clerk, in vacation: … H. Armstrong vs. Joseph Bergman; and S. N. Arri… … entered by default against J. Bergman for the sum of $384 and cost of suit. O. P. Ferry, executor, and Francette Hamilton, executrix, of the last will and testament of C. N. Hamilton, deceased, vs. John White and Wm. H. Bennett; judgment … by default against W. H. Bennett for $349 and cost of suit.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.—The excursion to Ross' Island on Saturday, by the teachers and pupils of the … day schools of the city, is represented as having been a very happy affair. The attendance was full, the … were of such a nature as to promote the … happiness and everybody enjoyed themselves … as they ought and as we hope they ever may, on … occasions.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—Proceedings of Saturday, May 16th: In bankruptcy—R. A. Sutherland, hearing upon objection to claim against estate of bankrupt, decision reserved. … S. HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittant Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels. Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Strange Case of Circumstantial Evidence.

Six miles southerly from the village of Plattsburg, New York, but within the limits of the town, there now live and long have dwelt several families of the name of Weatherwax. They constitute a neighborhood or clan, all related to each other, such as is not unfrequently found in country districts. Their general condition, character and position is now substantially the same as it was eleven years ago, at which time the facts of this case take their rise. In 1856 the Weatherwaxes were a numerous widely known connection of hearty and vigorous people, rough, daring and energetic, and engaged, for the most part, in the ordinary pursuits of laborers.

Some of them turned their attention to boating upon Lake Champlain as the pursuit which most readily met and gratified in a good degree their natural tastes and preferences. Of this number was Captain John G. Weatherwax, a man described to me as a type of his class, a hale, hearty fearless fellow, of fine physical proportions and dauntless spirit that would not brook contradiction. He was the captain and probably the owner of a lake boat which he plied between this and other ports on the New York and Vermont shores and down the lake across the line to the ports of Canada.

There was another of the boatman, Andrew Weatherwax, a cousin of the captain. At the date of which I am writing Andrew became the employee of Captain John G. Weatherwax, and aided him in the navigation of his vessel.

It was in the latter part of June of the year 1856, as I have gathered the facts, that Captain Weatherwax, attended by his cousin sailed from Plattsburg for a Canadian port. In the course of the cruise, having, it would seem, discharged his cargo, he came with his boat to Pike river, a stream or estuary that empties into or connects with Lake Champlain, just beyond the Canada line, and upon the east side of the lake. At Pike river there was a settlement of considerable extent, and a wharf at which the boat was conveniently moored. Here Captain Weatherwax was to obtain a lading of wood, with which to freight his boat and return to Plattsburg. And here occurred the tragedy which constitutes the body of the crime in this remarkable case.

The boat was lying at the wharf, and the loading of the wood had already commenced. At this point another person comes into notice. In addition to the Captain and his cousin Andrew there was a third man upon the boat, who was an employee, and made up the necessary complement required to constitute and complete the crew of the craft. This third man became the important witness in the case. During the day, while they were loading the boat, this witness, as he afterwards testified, observed the Captain and his cousin in violent quarrel. There were high and passionate words and threats employed without stint or measure. The quarrel and wrangling continued at intervals, and the angry feelings of the parties did not appear to subside at all as the day wore on, but seemed rather to increase than diminish, and the quarrel was at its height near nightfall. At evening, while the Captain and his cousin were near the bow of the boat, the witness stood alone at the stern. Darkness had settled around him, and the stillness of the summer night was disturbed only by the altercation, which, if it had lulled at all, had again broken out between the Captain and his employee, the cousin. As time passed on, although nothing could be seen by this man at the stern of the vessel, the noise of a wordy conflict and threats of violence continued to be heard by him. Finally, however, the quarrel [illegible] to have been brought to a sudden termination in a very singular manner. There came through the darkness to the ear of the listener the sound of a dull heavy thud, as of a powerful blow with some heavy weapon crushing through a skull, and then all was still.

Soon after this the Captain came aft, but without his cousin. What could the witness, who had listened to the transaction do or say? The Captain was his employer, and they two were now alone. The employee took no steps in the matter at all at that time. The night watch passed and in the morning there was the hat of Andrew Weatherwax, and near it blood, upon the forward deck of the vessel. The Captain was moody and taciturn and did not speak of his cousin.

Such was the statement of this witness. Was he the only listener to the sounds that came from the fearful tragedy that was enacted in that night watch, when human life was taken in anger by a kinsman's hand? It afterwards appeared that such was not the case. The Captain of another boat subsequently testified that he too heard the altercation and the fatal blow. Just at that time however, nothing was said or done, and the next day and still the next passed away and no accusation was made against Capt. Weatherwax. It was said and known that a man—the man—was missing from the boat; nothing more.

Perhaps the two listeners, having the terrible suspicion, which, in their own minds, amounted to a certainty of guilt, each supposing that he was alone in such knowledge, did not care to take the responsibility of making an accusation, which would be likely to ruin the accuser if it failed to convict the accused. At all events the Captain returned unmolested with his vessel to Plattsburg. When inquired of here in regard to his cousin, he gave, what were deemed evasive answers. The cousin, he said, had gone here, or there, or to some indefinite place, of which the Captain seemed unwilling to give any account. Thus some six or eight days passed, reckoning from the date when the crime was committed.

And now the second part of this remarkable tragedy took place. An event occurred which attracted much attention at Pike river. On the very spot where the boat of Captain Weatherwax had lain moored, the dead body of a man, recently [illegible] was taken from the water. The man had evidently come to his death by violence, for his skull was crushed, as if by a fearful blow from a murderous weapon in the hands of a vigorous assailant. The body was identified. The man recognized it appears beyond a doubt, was the man who had been missing from the boat as Andrew, the cousin of Captain Weatherwax.

Such a state of things aroused suspicion, the facts began to come out, and in the same month of July, some ten days after the murder, John G. Weatherwax was arrested on the charge of having murdered Andrew. The preliminary examination of whether to ascertain whether or not Captain W. ought to be held for trial occupied nine days and the facts were pretty fully brought out, as was then of record. Had the evidence produced upon this examination been given to the jury upon which it would have been impossible but that, the jury at must have been pronounced guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hung by the neck till he was dead.

What followed forms the third fully important event in this history. After the facts were all out, as [illegible], and there was no doubt of the Captain's [illegible] and no chance of his salvation from the [illegible] order him, his ingenious [illegible] of the resources of law and [illegible]. They succeeded in establishing the position that, [illegible] as this affair had taken place in Canada, the authorities of Plattsburg nor of Clinton county, nor of the State of New York, had anything whatever to do with the matter. They ousted J[illegible] Beckwith from his assumed jurisdiction. The criminal (as he was now esteemed) was [illegible] from custody.

As an incident showing the deep conviction of his guilt which [illegible] upon the minds of all parties having [illegible] of the case, I note the fact that his counsel, McMatters, has upon the brief record, which he has preserved of the points that he deemed of special interest in the transaction, an epitome of the professional advice he gave Captain Weatherwax when he was released from arrest. As the entry is stated to me, he recommended him at once to flee from his native country, to change his name and appearance, to go to the end of some unfrequented road, and there, out of the world, his identity concealed, to lead a new and different life.

But the fearless and determined Captain by no means [illegible] this advice. In the face of his accusers and all the world, he steadily and persistently asserted his entire innocence, and refused to budge a single inch from his accustomed round of business.

But no community could rest under the reproach of permitting such a criminal to walk at large among them. The friends of justice did not sleep, though for a time they seemed powerless. The matter gained a wider and still a wider notoriety. It came or was carried to the ears of the authorities of the British Government. A formal requisition was made under and in accordance with the solemn treaty existing, upon the authorities of the United States, to deliver up one John Weatherwax, accused of capital crime committed within the borders of Canada, to be dealt with according to the laws he had violated. William L. Marcy was then United States Secretary of State, and upon his warrant, dated December 9, 1856, Captain Weatherwax was again arrested. He was taken at once to Montreal and there closely confined in jail. From this point onward for some months I have not been able to trace his history with as much certainty and clearness as might be desired.

The accused remained in confinement in Montreal for the space of one year. I will not attempt to describe any of the manipulations to which it is understood he was indebted for his life. It is sufficient to state that the accused is said to have been once tried by a jury who failed to agree and I find it on the record that he was tried by a jury and acquitted, on the charge of the judge, that the evidence was not sufficient to convict.

So ten years ago the Captain was again released and went to his home in Plattsburg. Thus legal proceeding ended. But the life saved to the accused seemed hardly worth the having. No one believed him innocent. The mark of Cain was placed upon him, and he was shunned and dreaded even by his own relatives. A thousand times he has been accused by them of the murder of their kinsman. It would seem that the dread of disgrace, rather than the doubts of guilt had caused them to strive to save him from punishment. The eleven years that have passed since these transactions was made, have been sad and weary indeed to this man. He has at last alone in the belief and knowledge of his innocence.

And here we reach the last and above all these, strange event of this history. Early in the present month of October Andrew Weatherwax appeared among his friends and relatives in the southern part of the town of Plattsburg. When intelligence of his return was brought to those who participated in the scenes of 1856, which I have narrated, they refused to credit it.

The account which Andrew gives of himself is that on that July night in 1856, he left the boat lying at the wharf at Pike river, and wandered off to a rum shop somewhere in the neighboring settlements. Already partially intoxicated and irritated by the events of the day, it did not take long for him to become embroiled with certain tipsy fellows he found there. He says he was arrested, brought before a magistrate and fined. Not having the money to pay the fine, he was about to be placed in close confinement when a man stepped forward and offered to take him as a seaman giving an advance of wages to pay the fine. Andrew accepted and was speedily shipped on an English vessel. He went as a common sailor to China, to Australia, and to various parts of the world in various vessels. He returns now and learns for the first time of his supposed death by violence.

Since the return of his cousin, Captain John G. Weatherwax is another man. The confidence, vigor and lightheartedness of his younger days have returned to him. Friends cannot do enough to recompense him for the unjust suffering he has endured through their unjust condemnation.

There is still a mystery connected with this case. No rational account can be given of the body that was found and identified as that of Andrew Weatherwax. No other man was missing, no other stranger or settler, far or near, was known here or at Pike river, to have suddenly disappeared. Too great an interval of time has now elapsed to solve this mystery, and the truth in regard to it must be left to conjecture.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering with a miserable existence from the effects of early indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. What pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emission the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles or diplomas, or pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.
Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.
Consultations FREE.
Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

MANUFACTURERS OF
SHIPLEY'S PATENT PACIFIC
TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION, has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS AND USES THREE FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE.
The old high priced, unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been PLAYED OUT by a fair working trial made by Mr. H. Kelly at his saw mill, and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature.
MR. H. W. SHIPLEY, Sir: In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one ever since and three Leffel wheels 30, 13 and 15 inch diameters. When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 13 inch Leffel wheel, though unfinished it worked the machinery like a top, using 52 ft of water per minute more than the 13 inch Leffel. At your request I subsequently took your wheel out that it might be finished, and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel, but it gave no better power than yours while it used 72 cubic feet more water, per minute. After some months, I replaced your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to a most severe tests. For instance, while running the circular saw in a log which squared 18 inches, I added the planer with a 6 inch knife, cutting from one eighth to one fourth of an inch depth, without in the least slacking the speed. After thorough tests of both wheels I am satisfied that your wheel with gates one eighth of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffel with gates one third open. At half gate your wheel gives double the power of the Leffel at half gate. At full gate the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel, by from ten to twelve per cent. At quarter gate, the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.
N. B. Mr. Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, he being sick at the first and absent from the State at the second trial.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,
Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.
 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life the ignorant may asperse my motive, but the desire to point out to those who suffer languish and decay, the true cause of their affliction, is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How extended the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness is, none but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell, but its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced, by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs, languishing feelings, loss of muscular power, nervousness, irritability, cold feet or hands accompanied by hot head, symptoms of consumption, short breath, flushings of the face, aversion to society, confusion of the mind, loss of memory, nightly emissions, colorless, slight discharges upon the least excitement, trembling palpitation of the heart, irregular appetite, variable temper, etc.
YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the various symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may secure health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self abuse even in the slightest degree, you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is not a disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger; for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder Seminal Weakness.
See in the bent form and languishing steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice. Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye.
Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually into a great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights succeed days of depression.
It is the nature of the complaint to assume sudden changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your honest aspirations.
Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system unprepared for the exigencies of the occasion suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable condition, from which there is but the slightest hope of recovery. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepid and degenerate. This is applicable to both sexes, whether married or single, and to all times of life.
Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of the terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures when taken in time, always guaranteed and full and proper vigor restored.
The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated show a record unsurpassed by any hospital in the world and the success that has invariably marked the course of treatment.

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for but actually dangerous for it is a thoroughly established medical principle that those poisonous drugs, by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and destroy life.
The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases in a few days and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be: Where is there a physician competent to administer relief and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner but in a thorough manner as years of study and practice in both hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous or designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed—consultation by letter or otherwise free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided, when desired, where can be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and and faithful nurses.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or destroyed.
Consultation Free.
